What is a DEN Regional Conference?

The Discovery Educator Network is pleased to announce a series of 2 day conferences. These DEN events are intensive and interactive professional development days designed to enhance educators' depth of utilizing digital media and technology through Discovery Education products, while connecting them with their peers at the regional level. Attendees must RSVP for this event, be accepted, and attend both days.

There is no registration cost associated with attending these 2 day conferences. Additionally, DEN will provide your meals during conference hours, but will not cover the cost of travel or hotel.

Just like any other DEN experience, attendees will leave tired and energized at the same time. But most importantly during your two days you'll be sharing and learning from other educators who are passionate about using technology in their classrooms. And, when it is all over, you'll return with new skills that are guaranteed to reach your 21st century students.
