10:00 AM	Your Best Resource: The Discovery Education Community	Porter Palmer
	Since the Discovery Educator Network was founded in 2005, we have shared a singular mission: to connect educators to their most valuable resource, each other. In this session, join us as we introduce you to members of your Discovery Education Community and share upcoming opportunities for you to grow professionally and personally through rich connections with your most valuable resource, other Discovery educators.
10:30 AM	A Visit to a Classroom LIVE: Science	Fort Myers Christian Academy (FL)
	Come to Fort Myers, Florida and engage with a middle school teacher and students as they discuss their favorite learning experiences with the Discovery Education Science Techbook.
10:45 AM	Iron Teach Segment One
	In segment one of the Iron Teach competition our chefs use SOS strategies to develop science, social studies and math lessons using the "raw ingredient" video segments.
11:00 AM	Keeping it Real with the Math Techbook	Lynnell Matthews
	Learn how Math Techbook provides teachers with concrete ways to answer the classic question faced by math teachers, "Why do I need to learn this?". This session focuses on the real-world applications woven throughout Math Techbook.
11:30 AM	A Visit to a Classroom: Math	Wicomico County Public Schools (MD)
	Watch this video for a look at Math Techbook inside of a middle-school classroom, in Wicomico County Public Schools (MD)

	Featuring an announcement from our friends at GoNoodle
12:10 PM	Keynote: Discovery Education Techbook: Helping You Support ALL Learners	Michael Sandridge, Carroll County Public Schools (MD)
	It will come as no great surprise to you that all students do not "learn" in the same exact way. As educators, how can we design our learning experiences in order to maximize student learning and time efficiency? In this session, we will explore how Discovery Education's Techbooks seamlessly integrate principals of multiple intelligences and universal design for learning to create fantastic learning opportunities for our students.
12:55 PM	Iron Teach Segment Three
	In segment three of the Iron Teach competition the teacher chefs build their lessons with the help of SOS strategies and songs or sound effects.
1:00 PM	Gamifying the Science and Social Studies Techbook	Duane Waber
	Gamification is an instructional strategy designed to develop 21st century learning and employability skills. This session will focus on the mechanics of games that can be used in conjunction with the curriculum from the Science and Social Studies Techbook to transform your classroom into a gaming environment.
1:30 PM	A Visit to a Classroom: Social Studies	Powell County High School (MT)
	Join us as we look into a Discovery Education Social Studies Techbook classroom in Deer Lodge, Montana and watch the students navigate through a lesson using a gamified version of the Social Studies classroom.
1:45 PM	Iron Teach Segment Four
	In segment four of the Iron Teach competition, reading activities are on the menu for the science, social studies and math classrooms.
